

DENIA CASTLE AND MUSEUM

Sun, sea, sand, and superb stuff to do, really sums up why you should think about staying in Denia for a week this summer, or in fact any time of the year, because this place really has it all. Denia is one of THE places to stay in eastern Spain, and it's not been overdeveloped, does not have lager louts to ruin the holiday, and it's within easy reach of both Alicante and Valencia international airports.

DENIA CASTLE AND MUSEUM

The imposing Renaissance castle that overlooks the town and harbour is regionally a very important historical place and was built around 900 years ago, containing a museum in two large rooms of the "palace of the governor" and is not only a low cost day out, it's also extremely interesting!

The views from the castle are simply breathtaking and the grounds are ample enough to walk around and soak up the local history here, although from experience it is best to do it in the morning, as the afternoon heat can be scorching during the summer months when it's not rare to see the thermometer go past 40 degrees!

Denia castle is very easy to find as it dominates the town but if unsure, look for signs saying "Castillo".
